Before November, make them clarify their treasonous, anti-American conduct.

BREAKING NEWS

118TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

To amend the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 to require proof of United States citizenship to register an individual to vote in elections for Federal office, and for other purposes.

This is not an explanation:

"This bill would do nothing to safeguard our elections, but it would make it much harder for all eligible Americans to register to vote and increase the risk that eligible voters are purged from voter rolls."

-White House Office of Management and Budget

// I could walk into any polling place on Election Day, register under the name John Smith, sign a form claiming I really am John Smith, cast a ballot, and walk out. Not only would election officials have no way of preventing that or verifying that I am not really John Smith, I could repeat this in as many polling places as I can get to. //

The Real Story Behind the Tragic UGA Murder!

Act for America

Venezuela has a staggering murder rate of up to 90 per 100,000 – a shocking 14 times the national average in the United States. Venezuela was reclassified for Temporary Protected Status (TPS), offering work permits and deportation shields to 472,000 individuals who entered before July 31st. The financial burden of this decision on Americans amounted to a staggering $56,640,000,000 and the statistically expected homicide rate for this one group would be 450 homicides.

Open Borders Subject Women and Girls in the U.S. to Rapes and Wanton Violence

Betsy McCaughey

“The United Nations calls it ‘femicide,’ the wanton assault, rape and murder of girls and women. It’s a cultural epidemic in Latin America. Femicide is visible every step of the way from South America and the Northern Triangle countries to the Mexico-U.S. border. Rape trees, where women’s panties hang from branches, and rape tents, where girls and women are dragged by smugglers, dot the route. Do you think the rapes stop when illegals cross into the U.S.? No.”

Democrats block passage of bill aiding newborn babies

Eric Utter

"There is nothing in the bill that's about abortion. Nothing. It's about infanticide. That's the actual legislation. Because a 'fetus that was born' is, by definition, a newborn baby. And Democrats voted, en masse, not to preserve the life and health of newborn babies.

- Sen. Ben Sasse

Democrats use abortion for cynical political means

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2024/02/democrats_use_abortion_for_cynical_political_means.html

Jack Hellner

Here's a simple question about late-term abortions: If a woman has a baby at home and just lets it die, she is arrested for murder, involuntary manslaughter, or similar crime. However, if a woman has a baby at a Planned Parenthood clinic and the doctor and mother choose to let it die, it's 'reproductive choice.' Either it is a baby with rights, or it isn't. What happens here is unequal treatment under the law.

Yes, late-term abortions are real, and they happen every day

"I will never forget the day when our former Governor, Ralph Northam (D) admitted publicly that he believed it permissible, both as a physician and as governor, to allow survivors of botched abortions to be left to die even after they were born alive. "

<https://www.csmonitor.com/USA/Education/2023/0324/32-states-and-counting-Why-parents-bills-of-rights-are-sweeping-US> Jackie Valley

"Part of the problem is the discourse surrounding the term 'parental rights.' It's often used to describe conservative activism around education, which, while accurate in some respects, leads to an 'impoverished' understanding of an issue with far greater nuance . . . most parents, regardless of their background, ethnicity, or political leanings, want to have some insight, if not control, over their kids' experiences at school."

When the State Comes for Your Kids

For child services in states that regard "gender affirming care" as the only humane way to treat a troubled teen who's suddenly decided she's transgender, the power the state grants them to undermine and even remove parents who object to these treatments is alarming.

The State Department misleads the public by noting the money is not allowed to enter Iran, and Iran can only use it for non-illicit purposes. But it doesn't matter where the money sits in the world . . . if Tehran is allowed to use it—and if the money is subsidizing non-illicit payments in one place, it frees up $10 billion elsewhere for illicit transactions.

The United States must take immediate action to counter and roll back the intensifying Russian–Iranian alliance by ending efforts to revive the obsolete and risky 2015 Iran nuclear agreement; returning to a maximum pressure strategy against Iran; tightening economic sanctions on both countries; bolstering deterrence, especially missile and drone defenses against Iranian threats; and increasing U.S. energy exports to help reduce the oil and gas revenues that constitute the primary source of hard currency revenue for both regimes.
